

Safety During Movement and in Crowds

For pilgrims — awareness and adherence to routes

"Safety in crowds depends not only on the individual, but on everyone adhering to the instructions"

Why Do We Care About Safety in Movement and Crowds?

High density and constant movement

Reducing stampedes and falls

Protecting the elderly and children

Facilitating the movement of pilgrims

Preventing confusion in gatherings

Supporting the efforts of the organizers

Performing the rituals calmly and safely

Remember: Safety in crowds depends not only on the individual, but on everyone adhering to the instructions

The Main Risks of Crowds and Movement

They appear with haste and disregarding the guidelines

Stampeding and moving against the flow

Falling due to crowding

Getting separated from companions

Fatigue from long walking

Stopping suddenly in the path

Using unauthorized entrances

Obstructing emergency routes

Note: A crowd becomes more dangerous with haste or moving against the flow

Planning Before Moving

It reduces confusion and increases safety

Know the route

A clear
assembly point

A means of communication

An identification card

No heavy luggage

Water and rest before moving

Consideration for the elderly

Awareness Message: Organized movement begins before leaving the accommodation or the assembly point

Adhering to the Designated Routes

Organizing movement and reducing risks

Do not stand in the movement paths

5

Do not use the emergency routes

6

Follow the organizers' instructions

7

Follow the guidance signs

1

Do not move against the direction of travel

2

Use the designated entrances

3

Do not cross the barriers

4

Important Message: Disregarding the route can disrupt others' movement and increase the chance of a stampede

Moving Within Crowds

Calm and organization

Be mindful of the elderly and children

5

Walk with the direction of movement

6

Do not take shortcuts through unauthorized areas

7

Move calmly without haste

1

Keep a suitable distance

2

No sudden stopping in the path

3

No electronic devices while moving

4

Note: Pushing others or stopping suddenly can lead to a chain of falls

Avoiding Stampedes

One of the most dangerous crowd behaviors

No rushing toward the entrances

1

No pushing at the inspection points

2

Wait your turn calmly

3

Avoid gathering in narrow places

4

Leave space for the elderly

5

Follow the organizers' instructions

6

A minute of waiting is better than danger

7

Awareness Message: A calm minute of waiting is better than exposing yourself and others to danger

Safety at Entry and Exit Points

High density requires greater attention

Prepare your belongings in advance

Do not stop suddenly after entering

Do not turn back against the flow

Be mindful of children and the elderly

No filming in the movement path

Follow the designated routes

Wait for guidance when it is crowded

Note: Entry and exit points are not suitable places for waiting or gathering

Safety on Means of Transport

Patience and order when boarding and alighting

Wait in the designated place

No rushing at the doors

Board and alight calmly

Priority for the elderly

Hold on to the handles

Do not stand at the doors

Belongings that do not obstruct others

Important Message: Safety in transport begins with patience and order, not with haste

Safety of the Elderly and People of Determination

Planning and accompaniment in crowds

Do not move them alone in the crowd

Less crowded times

Available means of transport

Frequent rest periods

Important health information

Informing the companions

No long walking without preparation

Awareness Message: Considering the groups most vulnerable to risk is a collective responsibility

Children's Safety in Crowds

Continuous supervision

Hold their hand in crowded areas

5

Designate a safe assembly point for them

6

Request help from the organizers

7

Do not leave the child unsupervised

1

Teach them the companion's name and number

2

Put an identification card with them

3

Do not let them run

4

Note: A few moments of distraction can lead to losing the child in the crowd

Avoiding Distraction While Moving

It increases the chance of tripping and collisions

Electronic devices while walking

Filming in the movement
path

Searching in the bag

Stopping suddenly to talk

Headphones that block the instructions

Correct Action: Stop in a safe, designated place if you need to use your device

Dealing with Getting Separated from Companions

An advance plan reduces confusion

A clear
assembly point

A means of communicatio n

Memorize the accommodatio n address

Do not move randomly

Request help from the organizers

Stop in a safe place

Correct Action: Stop in a safe place, contact your companions, or head to the nearest assistance point

What to Do During Severe Crowding?

Calm and avoiding panic

Stay calm

1

Do not push the person in front of you

2

Move with the safe direction

3

Do not bend down for belongings

4

Stay away from narrow corners

5

Follow the organizers' instructions

6

Request help when tired

7

Important Message: In severe crowding, your safety is more important than belongings or arriving quickly

What to Do When a Person Falls in the Crowd?

A calm action prevents increasing the danger

Do not stampede around the casualty

Alert those around you calmly

Request help
from the organizers

Do not move
them if they are injured

Help only if it is safe

Call 999 in case of danger

Note: Crowding around the casualty can obstruct the arrival of help and increase congestion

Preparing for Weather Conditions

Heat, rain, and dust

Drink water regularly

An umbrella or cover for the sun

Avoid walking when tired

Suitable, comfortable footwear

Watch for slippery floors

Stop when visibility is poor

Awareness Message: Safety while moving includes attention to both crowds and weather

A Light Bag for Safe Movement

Extra weight makes movement harder

identification
card

A suitable amount of water

Personal medicines

A charged means of communicatio
n

Accommodatio n information

Light items only

Important Message: The lighter your belongings, the safer and easier your movement

When You Hear an Alarm or Official Instruction

Following the instructions calmly

Listen to the instructions clearly

Do not spread rumors

Follow the designated route

against the flow

Help without obstructing
the route

Head to the assembly point

Important Message: Following the official guidance reduces confusion and keeps everyone safe
